

Dig In! Campus Agriculture Presents:

2019-2020

URBAN AGRICULTURE SPEAKER SERIES

Sponsored By the School of Cities

UTSC Edible Campus

With: Béatrice Lego, Campus Farm Coordinator

Come learn about the initiative of Edible Campus at UTSC, the work accomplished so far, and opportunities for students to get involved in this exciting urban agriculture project on campus.

WHEN: Thursday, November 14, 2019 @ 5:00 p.m.

WHERE: BA 2165, 40 St. George St.

Permaculture Design and Urban Agriculture in the Greater Toronto Area

With: Jane Hayes, Garden Jane (www.gardenjane.com)

Jane Hayes is a permaculture designer, gardener, community developer, educator and coach. She has spent 24 years co-developing healthy food programs and accompanying site designs with municipalities, non-profits and socially responsible businesses.

WHEN: Monday November 25, 2019 @ 4:30 p.m.

WHERE: BA B024, 40 St. George St.

Coming Up in 2020:

- January: Hands-on composting workshop with Mike Nevin from Food Share (<https://foodshare.net/staff/mike-nevin/>)
- February: Cheyenne Sundance from Sundance Harvest Farms will discuss the intersections of urban agriculture, food justice, and Black & Indigenous (BIPOC) marginalization and food sovereignty (<https://www.sundanceharvestfarm.com/>)

Visit <https://campusagriculture.wordpress.com/> for updated information.

School of Cities
UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

